CECILIA H CALDERON ART JUROR

Calderon's work elicits deep soul connections to the earth. She experiments with copper, bronze, patinas, textures, oils, acrylics, textiles and plaster, creating one-of-a-kind pieces that resonate with collectors from around the globe.

A native of Mexico City, Calderon studied graphic design, expressing her passion for art through stained glass and sculpture. By 1995, when her family moved to Austin, Texas, she'd already gained a following of architects, designers and private clients. When she discovered copper as a medium, she fell in love.

In 2006 she moved to Scottsdale, Arizona where she was juried into several renowned artist leagues, was invited to the Arizona Copper Biennial and as a judge for fine art at the Arizona State Fair. She was accepted to participate for several years at the Arizona Fine Art Expo, where she sold her pieces to collectors from around the world.

Today, Calderon lives in Paonia, Colorado and continues to push the limits of texture, color and shape through her work. From striking wall tapestries, to her illuminated "Guardians" series and beyond, her work awakens the bond each of us has to the natural world.

DALE HALLEBACH | PHOTOGRAPHY JUROR

Dale and his wife Trish live in Meeker. He appreciates the beauty the state offers in photographic opportunities. His passion for art began at the young age of eight when his mother bought him a decent camera. He's been hooked ever since. Dale attended the American Academy of Art in Chicago and then free-lanced for National Geographic. These opportunities opened his eyes to the wonderment of the art of photography. Teaching classes through Colorado Northwestern Community College, Dale keeps current on new trends and technology. He enjoys sharing his knowledge to fresh and enthusiastic students.

No stranger to the Meeker Classic, Dale is a long-time volunteer sharing his support and photographic talents with us. You will also see Dale alongside the historic sheep wagon as he takes the Dog Sponsor photographs for the event. Thank you for everything Dale!
